

RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING (RPL)

To ensure that we are meeting your needs, we offer recognition of prior learning for all our courses. Recognition of prior learning refers to experiences you have had in your work experience and other training before you enrolled in the present course.

If you feel that you have already gained some or all of the skills included in the training program or you have achieved a relevant previous qualification and would like to have these recognised, please contact your Training Officer on 42292666. If you are successful, your prior learning will be recorded against your training performance and you will not be required to undertake the related learning activities within the course.
